has participated in the following education session:

Antimicrobial Stewardship - The Global Challenge of Antimicrobial Resistance

Presenter Dr Margaret Young

In this session, you will:

- Explore why Antimicrobial Resistance (AMR) is important and its definition
- Explore the drivers and implications of AMR
- Gain an understanding of Antimicrobial Stewardship
- Gain an understanding of how to apply these issues to our clinical and personal practice

Completed on

07 April 2019 (duration of 1 hour/s)

This equates to 1 CPD Hour/s (Continuing Professional Development)

REFLECTION:

In the face of an almost complete absence of new antimicrobial drugs in development, antibiotic resistance has become an important public health issue. In this session, we will review the global challenge of antimicrobial resistance and strategies that have been shown to improve the safe and effective use of antibiotics.
